

Tyfomono End User License Aggrement (EULA)

Introduction.

On this page is current Extended End User License Agreement, or EULA. It applies to fonts that you purchase from any of the vendors that Tyfomono work with.

What follows is brief highlights in plain language of what it includes. This doesn't cover everything, just the things we are most often asked about. It should not be construed as representing the license itself.

Highlights of What's in the License.

This particular license is for fonts that you purchase in order to create documents on a desktop computer.

This license allows our fonts to be used pretty much any way you like, as long as it doesn't involve giving or distributing the fonts to other marketplaces.

It doesn't allow you to distribute or sell the fonts in any way, such as including them in ebooks or apps.

The fonts may be used for things like logos, ad campaigns, books, magazines, posters, t-shirts—pretty much anything that can be reproduced mechanically—with no restrictions, so long as the fonts themselves (i.e., the font files) are not included in some way.

You can modify the fonts, but the modified fonts are considered to still be governed by this license, and subject to the same limitations and rights.
